MEDICINAL. Courage is a Matter of the Blood.

poor nerves.

Anemia means thinness of blood. It is common in men and young women and all those who work indoors, who do not get enough outdoor air and good oxygen in their lungs. There are too many white blood corpuscles in such cases, and there is often a peculiar sound in the heart, called a murmur, in cases of anemia. This heart murmur is caused by thinness of the blood passing through the heart. The murmur of anemia disappears when the blood regains its natural consistency and richness. It is not heart disease, but caused by the stomach. It is the occasion of much anxiety, alarm and suffering, for which its victim is dependent upon reflex disturbances from the stomach caused by indigestion. In the same way many bad coughs are dependent upon these reflex disturbances of what is called the pneumogastric nerve. To enrich the blood and doing away with nervous irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which promotes digestion and assimilation of food so that the blood gets its proper supply of nouriskment from the stomach. Get as near to nature's way as you can. A medicine made entirely of botanical extracts and which does not contain alcoholist the safest. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol or narcotics. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best liver pills.

The dining room as arranged was naval in every particular, as far as land conditions would allow. The tables were specially made in the shape of battleships blunt at the stern and sharp at the fore. They were arranged in three columns. The starboard-column tables were named after His Majesty's ships Magnificent, Nile, Indus, Bacchante, Highflyer and Majestic. The center-column tables were named after naval stations of Great Britain and America, the first Malta and the second Admiralty, at which Lord Selborne and Rear Admira! Jewell were seated, and the others Annapolis, Whale Island and Mare Island.

At the head of the port column, representing American battleships, was the

HE ACCUSES McCUE

"Sam McCue cheated me out of my wite and ruined my home. Now he wants to put a rope around my neck." Such were the words uttered in Charlottesville a few days ago by Lester Marshall, husband of the comely young woman who recently sprung into notori-ety through her alleged relations with Charlottesville's ex-mayor, now charged with the murder of his wife. Marshall and his wife are leading no turtle dove existence. Their billing and cooing, during the last twelve months, have been nothing if not intermittent. Even now the woman is seeking a divorce from her husband. She says the man drinks and that he is abusive and immoral. Lester Marshall's rejoinders to all such allegations are equally as uncom-plimentary. And yesterday he was ir-ritated because it had leaked out that Mrs. Marshall had written a significant letter to J. Samuel McCue and had had it sent to the prison. Persons in a position to know say the epistle was sac-charine in its rhetoric; that it smacked of sugar and sorghum—in a word, that

AMERICANS AND BRITONS AT BANQUET.

"I thank God the day has come when neither the British nor the American any can be jealous of each other's development."

Rear Admiral Jewell, in the toregoing sentence, last night elicited loud chears when he replied to the toast in honor of the American Earopean squadron at the banque given them by the Pilgrin Society, in London. Lord Selborne, first lord of the the Admiralty, presided at the gathering, which included many representative Britons.

Lord Selborne, in Proposing the American aval guests, said he must refer to the "inexcusable outrage" in the North Sea.
